Little Moments Big Magic

It's Fun and Rewarding.....

What is universal to being a Big Brother or Big Sister is that most "Bigs" start out thinking they will give something back, yet most end up saying "I get back so much more than I give."

Our "Bigs" are asked to spend 8-10 hours a month with their "Littles" doing everyday activities. We also have group outings to a SU basketball game, a local Theatre production, a Syracuse Chiefs baseball game, a family summer picnic, a holiday party and much more. We also receive donated tickets to local events that are given to the "Bigs" and "Littles". All BBBS activities are at no cost to program participants. To start making "Little Moments.Big Magic" happen, contact us today.

It's the simple things in life that form our favorite memories. Bigs and Littles find that little moments truly are big magic.

One of the biggest misconceptions about being a Big Brother or Big Sister is that it means being a perfect role model. What it really means is being a friend, and bringing a little magic into your life and that of a child.

Think back to when you were a kid. Who was it that brought magic into your life just by being there? Who do you always remember with a smile? Maybe it was an aunt who taught you to cook, or a neighbor who let you help him fix his car. Or maybe it was someone who just included you in everyday activities of life because it was fun—for both of you.

Being a "Big" means being yourself, and sharing the best part of yourself with a friend. Each of us had a special person who opened doors and widened our horizons. As a Big, you can do the same for a child.

Being a Big is one of the best decisions you'll ever make. It means a chance to gain a new friend, and see the world—and be seen—through fresh new eyes. No matter where you are in life right now, being a Big will make it better.

To learn more, just ask—we'll answer your questions, and get you started fast.

Contact us today, and let the magic in your life begin.
